

VHF/HF Radio Communication Systems & Solutions

VHF & HF Radio can provide your own Email, Fax & Data, Vehicle Tracking, Telephone Interconnect, Voice and Emergency Solutions. These easy to operate in-house managed systems with 1-3 years warranty require neither phone lines, satellites, nor recurring charges making them cost effective with quick payback of investment.

Introduction

For the last three decades, Radio Communication Division has actively been involved in Supply and Supporting of high quality High Frequency (HF) Single Side Band (SSB) and Very High Frequency (VHF) communication equipment for both long distance and short distance, autonomous communications in fixed stations and land mobiles.

Having established our name with such world wide giants and market leader in radio communication as Barrett Communication & Motorola in the past 10 years we have been expanding our presence into most Tanzanian regional and rural markets. Today SimbaNET is recognized as a classic designer, supplier and supporter of radio communication equipment and network for both short and long distances.

SERVICES

Back-up Support / After Sales Service

Our support team aims at providing immediate services. In the first instance of receiving a call of any fault from a client, we will diagnose the fault by telephone, radio or other telecommunication means and offer possible fixes or simple tests to determine the problem. For this purpose we have our Radio Department Hotline. Once the fault has been determined we will ask for the equipment to be brought to our workshop or we can arrange for an on-site visit from one of our Service Engineers. They will fix the problem on the spot or, if that is not possible have a replacement (conditions apply) programmed to the customer's specification.
